Instructional Coaching Manager

Position Summary: Teacher Coaches play a significant role in the organization. As direct managers of Teach for the Philippines’ Teacher Fellows, they regularly monitor both pedagogical performance and leadership growth through observation-debrief cycles, school group meetings, and student learning outcomes. As professional managers, Coaches are responsible for cultivating a strong and effective professional relationship with Fellows, and providing individualized support both in technical and soft skills and in building mindsets, helping to ensure that Teacher Fellows are successful inside and outside of the classroom. As the first point of contact between Fellows and the organization, Coaches help Teacher Fellows deployed across the country with integration into school communities. Coaches are passionate team players and skilled intercultural communicators. An enjoyment of field work is a must – travel throughout the Philippines is required.

What is the job’s purpose? The purpose of the job is to support Teacher Fellows in order to ensure Fellow’s growth and impact (measured via improved student learning outcomes) during the two-year Fellowship.

Why is the job important? Without being successful with their jobs in the public schools, Teacher Fellows cannot complete their two-year Fellowship in good standing or contribute to the attainment of our shared vision by being excellent alumni Ambassadors for the organization. Approximately 24.5 Million Filipino children are in public schools around the country. They need our Teacher Fellows to catalyse their learning experience and transform their lives, while we need our Teacher Fellows to experience success in teaching in a public school classroom so that all parties – alumni and staff – can passionately drive collective, systemic change inside and outside the organization making an excellent education available to all Filipino children within our lifetime.

What position does this job report to? This role reports, and is accountable, to the Instructional Coaching Director

What are the main challenges facing this role? The principal challenge is the balancing act between being both a teacher coach and a professional manager. In this role, one’s key progress measures include not only looking out for teacher effectiveness, but also viewing the Teacher Fellow holistically as a contributing professional to Filipino society. There is also the challenge of maintaining emotional distance and professional distance from the various situations at hand.
